C. Rubric and Student Responses

| Score | Description |
|-------|---|
| 2 | The student lists two things the students in the band do in the article that help make it more believable. The things the student should have stated are as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• They decide to hold a concert at the hospital because one of their friends is injured.• They organize the area where the concert will be held. |
| 1 | The student only lists one thing the students in the band do in the article that help make it more believable. |
| 0 | The student does not list anything that the students in the band do in the article that help make it more believable OR the response is incorrect or irrelevant. |

SCORE 2

²⁵
This story is believable because one of their band members is injured, so it is likely that they would play at the hospital he's staying at. Another thing that makes the story believable is that they said they organized the room so everyone can fit, it is not like they are going to bundle everyone in a small room.

Two things the band students did to make this a believable story were. One they went in early Thursday morning to help set up. Two the students did the concert at the hospital because one of their fellow students was injured and at that hospital.

First they had been planning the concert for weeks. And second they had a meeting and everything to have enough space.

25

They made it believable because they discussed how to organize the concert, and that what most of the people do in real life. They also made it believable because the patients of the hospital are in wheelchairs and in beds.

25

① First they performed in a hospital to encourage their band member and other patients.

② And by the way it says in the book they did a good job.

25

One thing the band students in the article did that make it a believable story is that they went to the hospital and did a concert. The second thing they did is that their friend was injured.

One kid was sick and they used a real setting.

25

They make it seem a believable story
because people can get in a accident and go to the hospital.
